What's in herbal honey supplement syrups?

First, let's talk about what these aren't. These aren't honeys you spread on biscuits. Nor is this honey that's been infused with healthful ingredients. We haven't added anything to what our honeybees produce naturally in their hives.

So, what's the difference? Our bees' diets. The table honey from your supermarket is produced by bees who feed off nectar in nature. Even Manuka honey is made by releasing bees into Manuka orchards to gather nectar and pollen.

Our MEL honeybees are fed extracts made from plants scientifically validated for their health properties. We select the parts of each plant with the most active ingredients. These include stems, bark and leaves which otherwise wouldn't be accessible to our honeybees as food.

No one else is doing this. The extracts fed to our honeybees are the result of more than 20 years of scientific research and development.

Then we leave the rest up to nature. As the plants' active ingredients are passed through the bees' bodies, the result is something more powerful than if it came straight from the plant. In fact an independent laboratory test has shown that our one of a kind herbal honeys contain over 1000 bio actives compared to about 100 in regular honey

Our beekeepers harvest the honey using time-honored methods. Then it's moved into our state-of-the-art GMP facility. Except for filtering and packing, our herbal honey supplement syrups are untouched by human hands. The finished beehive-based products are nutritional supplements that deliver more benefits than the natural botanicals. They provide greater support for your wellness goals.

Stock your medicine cabinet with these sweet alternatives.

Each MEL honey supplement targets a specific health benefit.

There are nine benefit categories ranging from immune and digestive support to respiratory, balance and serenity.

Please go to the individual product pages for additional information about all of the botanicals used in MEL products, and to read what others are saying about their benefits.
